

The Muddy Archaeologist

Gillian Hovell

School Sessions

For KS4 & KS5

Exploring the great legacy left to us by the Romans in their Latin. We can use it to expand our understanding of English language and literature, how languages work, history, biology, religious studies ...

Choose from any or all of the options below for vibrant, interactive and enthusiastic sessions.

An illustrated story of how Latin survived two thousand years

Travel in time from the Romans, through the early Church to the Normans and Medieval life. Then see how the discoveries of new science used Latin, and how it's still used in our modern life.

See examples of why Latin was important to people in all these eras.

A good session for individual subjects to see where they 'fit in' to the big picture or as an overview for combined classes.

Latin All Around Us

Revealing how much Latin is still around us

The Romans were hot on their Games, religion, food and drink, animals, the theatre (links with our modern TV & celebrities), war, money ...

Latin lurks in so many English words – learn the hidden amusing, strange and sometimes gruesome stories behind them.

Playing with Words

Play with the patterns the Romans created in English.

Break down our English into bite-sized chunks – a taste of Rome!

Great for spelling skills and for encouraging a sense of fun with words.

Decoding Latin

An illustrated session, teaching the basic concepts needed to understand Latin.

Three Golden Rules.

How does language work?

Get to translate – and really understand - some of our common Latin phrases.

Digging up the Romans

How do we know about the Romans?

Archaeology – what is it? How do we do it? What does it tell us?

And if you have a particular topic of Roman history you'd like me to help you to explore, just ask!
