

Gillian Hovell BA(Hons)

'The Muddy Archaeologist'

Professional freelance Ancient Historian, Archaeologist
& Latin Expert

Published & Award-winning writer and speaker – in person & on screen
Lecturer for the British Museum & York University. Accredited Arts Society lecturer
Member of Society of Authors

Adding colour, depth & context to our lives today by digging deep into ancient history

Presenting lively, passionate and engaging ancient history and archaeology that connects with our lives today to adults and children, academic and general public, through media, online courses, books, freelance writing, talks, tours & cruises, classes & courses, study days & workshops, interviews, in person, in the field, on-line & in the media

Specialisms

- Adding fresh dimensions to topics and commenting on news by providing narratives from ancient history (especially prehistory, Greek & Roman): including origins, contrasts, human angles, pathos and triumph, human achievements, derivatives, contrasts, common humanity, inspiration, mysteries, professions & business, great locations ...
- Relating ANY topic of modern life to the ancient world (and, vice versa, any aspect of the ancient world to our modern lives). eg. Gardens, food, art, health, jobs, nature, science, politics, words, philosophy ...
- Deciphering and bringing to life archaeological eras and sites: UK, Europe & Mediterranean. All ranging from Stone Age, to Bronze Age, through the Iron Age and Roman era into Anglo-Saxons and beyond.
- Expert in ancient civilisations including Greeks, Romans, Phoenicians, Etruscans, Egyptians, Mediterranean islands (Malta, Cyprus, Sicily, Crete, etc) and prehistory (from Orkney to the Near East)
- Latin expert, adding flavour and zest to our English language and to the vocabulary of every area of our modern lives
- Expert in ancient art, literature & authors; their part in ancient history and their legacy and impact on us today. Many courses explore the original Latin to fully appreciate the Roman view of their world.

Qualities

- Academically robust, clear, with a strong narrative to engage in a direct, passionate and lively manner
- Always tailored to particular audiences, markets and/or the general reader
- Lively, engaging, quirky & memorable. Known for smiling, passionate enthusiasm & accessibility.
- Well-presented and delivered on time
- A strong following for work delivered in publications, on-line, in media and in person (Social Media posts & blogs known to reach over 20,000 people)
- Award Winning Writer: British Library/RHS annual international award The Writer in the Garden
- Personal experience of a multitude of archaeological sites in UK, Europe & the Mediterranean
- Published award-winning writer.  Member of the Society of Authors

All supported by

- Media experience
 - Muddy Archaeologist branded Online Courses – archaeology, Latin, Ancient history
 - Radio interviews: BBC Radio 4, BBC local radio, independent local radio interviews, TRT 'Showcase' (on Troy), podcast for BBC History Magazine. Radio 2 Archaeology expert interview Nov.2018
 - Presenter of BBC 2 'Digging for Britain'/360 Production on-line blog support series of videos,
 - Presenter of on-line & Promotional videos made in-house & by FireForge Media to promote aspects of The Muddy Archaeologist, and self-made videos on sites, cruises and related work
Videos can be viewed at www.muddyarchaeologist.co.uk media page & 'Muddy Archaeologist' You Tube videos
 - Registered Expert with Past Preservers (www.pastpreservers.com)
- decades of study and work in ancient history
 - Latin & Ancient History BA (Hons) Exeter University
 - Author: Visiting the Past: Finding & Understanding Britain's archaeology (The History Press, 3rd edition 2015);
Roman Britain (Crimson 2012);
Not Just a Load of Old Stones: A Mediterranean Tour (exploring and understanding ancient civilisations archaeological sites) Publication planned 2022
Latin Yesterday, Today & For Ever Publication planned 2022

Cont./...

- Lecturer for York University: Ancient history, archaeology & Latin public courses.
 - Public Speaker throughout the UK & internationally (including Australia lecture tours) on ancient history and archaeology, including its relevance, appreciation and impact - and enjoyment - and on Latin's continuing place in today's world.
Clients include the British Museum, Ashmolean Museum Oxford, Classical Associations, The Arts Society (formerly NADFAS), national media, Marlborough Summer School, universities and schools, local societies, WI ...
 - Lecturer on multiple self-initiated and commissioned courses (eg. Marlborough College Summer School, Denman WI & Rossett) on ancient history, ancient literature & art, archaeology & Latin.
 - Creator of 'The Muddy Archaeologist Online Courses' 2020 in response to Covid-19
 - Tour/cruise lecturer in UK, Europe & Mediterranean for UK, US, Canadian, Australian & NZ audiences. From Neolithic to Vikings and from Shetland to Italy, Greece, Ephesus and all eras and destinations between.
Includes Smithsonian Journeys, ASA Cultural Tours (Australians Studying Abroad), Academy Tours, Voyages to Antiquity (stepping into Mary Beard's shoes when she moved on), Ciceroni Travel, Saga specialist archaeological tours & cruises, and Visiting the Past Tours.
Highest possible ratings achieved in knowledge, accessibility, relevance, humour, organisation & hosting of and amiability to guests.
 - Author of Blogs as The Muddy Archaeologist for own promotion and others (eg. Voyages to Antiquity cruises) & Social Media.
 - The Arts Society (formerly NADFAS) accreditation as national lecturer on art of the ancient world.
Arts Society Australia Lecture Tour, 2018 (& 2021 booked inc. New Zealand)
 - Writer of numerous historical & archaeological articles for diverse magazines
- over ten years of hands-on work in archaeology
 - Excavated on internationally important sites such as UHI's Ness of Brodgar (Orkney), University of Texas' Oplontis (Pompeii), University of York's Star Carr (Mesolithic Yorkshire), Vindolanda (Hadrian's Wall).
 - Founded and led community archaeology project 2004-2013. Project leader, excavator, trainer, site director, community liaison, outreach, international academic conference speaker on archaeometallurgy, public lecturer, research ... Main project site included Neolithic, Bronze age, iron Age, Early Medieval & Medieval features.
 - Supported local community projects, supplying experience, research, excavation, equipment, guided walks, lectures & training.
 - Working independently and with individuals and educational and heritage establishments and media, and with a wide variety of institutions large and small in the UK, US & Australia.
 - experience of travel and adventure
 - Charity trek through the Jordanian desert to Petra
 - Wild camping in Scotland and extended wild camp high level trekking in Himalayan Nepal, survived Altitude Sickness
 - Explored history/archaeology in UK, Europe (Shetland to Jordanian desert), Asia, US & Australia
 - Slept in Thai jungle, swam in the River Kwai, North Sea & with sharks, & ridden elephants in Thailand

Ancient History is everywhere. Let me help your audiences to discover its vibrant place in our lives.

Gillian Hovell BA(Hons)
'The Muddy Archaeologist'

212 Woodfield Road, Harrogate, North Yorkshire, HG1 4JF England

Tel. 01423 203516 Mob. 07860 637301

Email: Gillian@muddyarchaeologist.co.uk

www.muddyarchaeologist.co.uk Website

www.muddyarchaeologist.thinkific.com Online Courses

www.facebook.com/muddyarchaeologist

<https://www.linkedin.com/in/muddyarchaeologist>